

Six rules for a money community people can trust.

What we built into DesiSquare so that desi investors can ask honest questions — and get honest answers.

RULE 1

Rank people by help, never by money.

Karma comes from reactions to answers. Portfolio data never enters a leaderboard or badge.

The people worth reading here, and why each list is ordered the way it is. Members are ranked by contribution, never by returns. One list — opt-in gurus publishing a track record — is ordered by percent return, and says so in its own heading.

Most helpful members

Ranked by the reactions their answers earned — engagement, never money.

RULE 2

Flags stay private.

Four reasons, one moderator queue. No public flag counts to pile on.

RULE 3

Percent, not dollars.

Public pages show allocation in percent. Dollars are visible only to their owner.

RULE 4

Verify credentials, not identities.

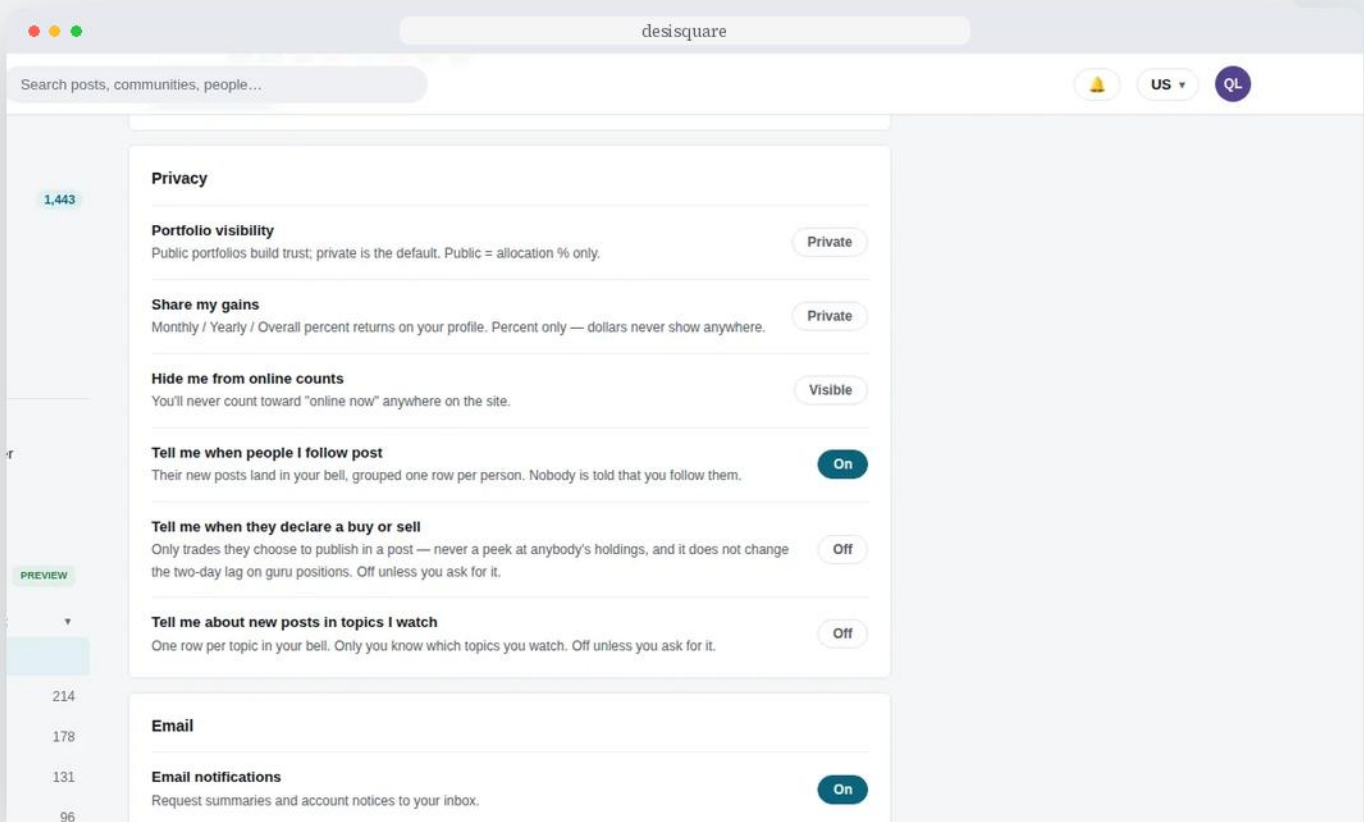

Gurus are credential-checked; members stay pseudonymous. Track records are opt-in.

RULE 5

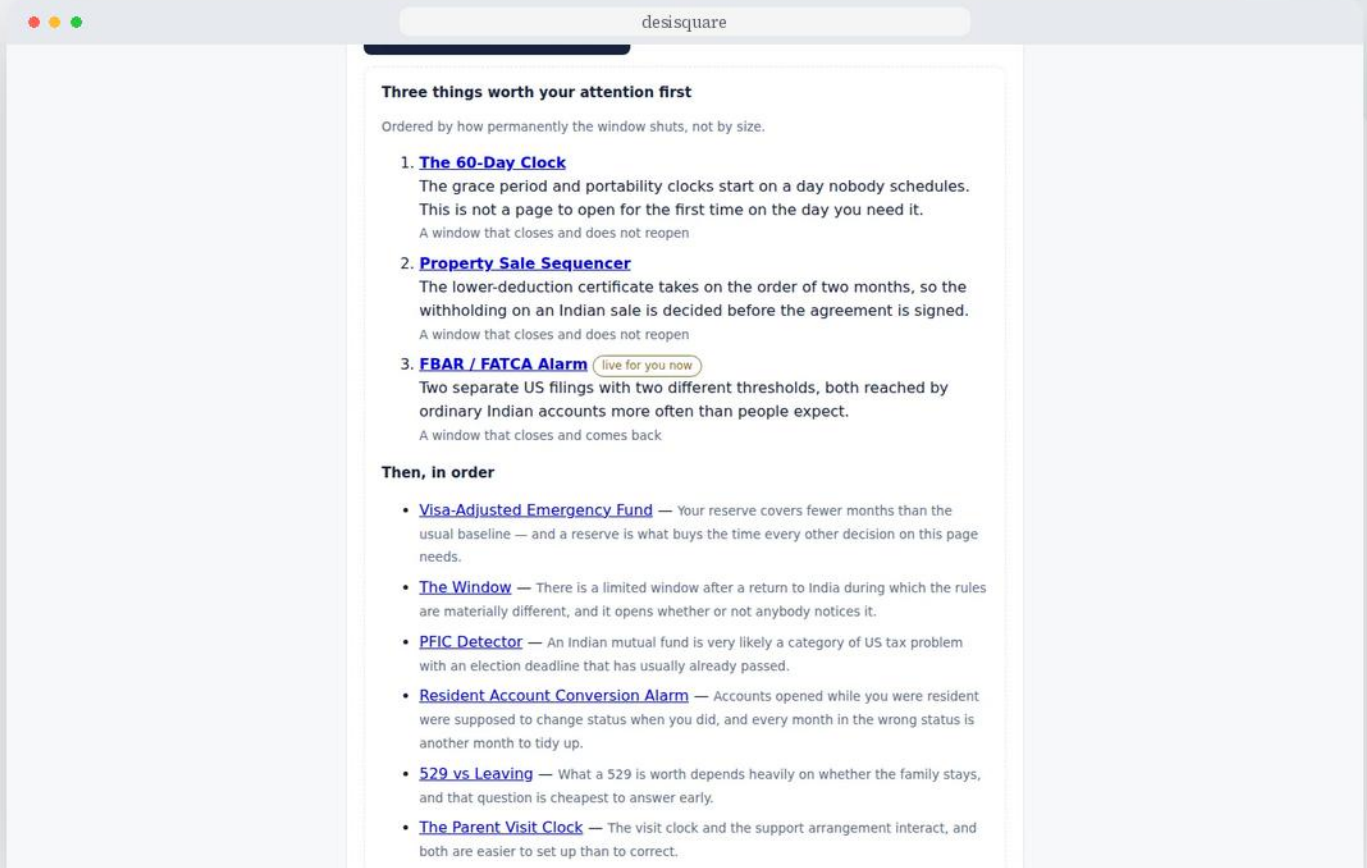

Consent before WhatsApp.

Mirroring and notifications are opt-in. Phone numbers never appear anywhere.

Give away the tools.

100+ public calculators with sourced rules and a date on every figure.

Educational, never advice.

Where desi money questions get trusted answers —
pseudonymous, percent-only, educational.
